Aubarn-Haired Women

Auburn-haired girls have come into fashion, and those who have the reddish golden tresses, are to be envied. Bleached blondes are decidedly passe, and those with golden hair are trying to turn it to the fashionable shade of gray—for darkhaired brunettes may turn their hair by persistent bleaching and dyeing, but for the yellow-haired or bleached blonde, there is no help. And although red hair may be obtained by means of switches, puffs, and dyes, none can get the peculiarly clear complexion that usually accompanies auburn hair. In the manner of hair dressing, the close, flat style of hair dressing, is the one suitable for the very dressy toilets that are prophesied for the coming season. Women with red hair are called "rossas," and if they have the reddish-golden hair that poets rave over and artists love to paint, they are bewitching, especially if they have the bronze-tinted eyes.

What Scares a Woman.

Notice a woman when she receives a telegram. How it does scare her! She trembles like a dish of jelly, and imagines all sorts of things. Her husband has fallen down the hatchway at his warehouse. Her Johnny has gone out sailing and is drowned. Her sister Mary has been scalded to death. Nothing short of a fatal accident quite fills the bill of her imagination. When she finally summons courage to tear open the envelope she finds a message from her husband warning her that he will bring a customer home to dinner, and she immediately calls her children together and instructs them not to ask twice for raspberries, as there's just enough to go around, and give the visitor a few extra.

THE Prussian minister of the depart ment of justice has issued an order to his subalterns which it would be well for all American office-holders and business men to consider and take to heart. That functionary has instructed his sub-functionaries to sign their names to any official document in such a manner that it can be deciphered with not too much trouble and loss of time. "Daily," he says in his order, "I receive official documents which, instead of being subscribed to in a legible hand, contain few hieroglyphics affixed to the end of their contents, which undoubtedly are meant for something, but nobody knows what." It seems as if this practice of signing public documents with incomprehensible and illegible pothooks had become fashionable in official and business life on both hemispheres. Clerks write out the body of the letter or document, and the principal "sticks his fist to it," and what a fist it is 1 The foot-print of a Shanghai rooster would serve the same purpose. Courtesy in common life requires that in conversation person shall speak intelligibly, and use decent language, and common decency also demands that any person shall sign his or her name in a legible

THE president of the United States Electric Light company said in New York the other day: "At first we do not intend to charge less for our light than the price of gas, but in three months we expect to be able to afford it at a lower rate. Competition will cause the gas companies to reduce their prices, and then we shall follow them down, and then end by making prices lower than they can manufacture it for Within a year gas will not be worth more than $1 per 1,000 feet."

THE LATEST SENSATION.

The whole country to-day is alive with excitement over the latest phase of the quarrel between the president and the New York senators—the resignation of Roscoe Conkling and Thomas C. Platt as members of the United States senate. The reading of their resignations in the senate yesterday was the signal for the most profound sensation experienced in that august body for many years. NEW YORK, May 16 .- The Commercial says: The cases of Senators Conkling and Platt are now in the hands of the legislature of New York, and it is to decide whether or not it approves the action they have recently taken.

account of the legislature having heretofore endorsed the nomination of Robertson to be collector of the port of New York, it cannot consistently enderse the a tion of the two senators in opposing it. All sorts of rumors are affect regarding other resignations which are to follow, Vice President Arthur being among There is, however, no apparent foundation for the reports.

WASHINGTON, May 16 .- The Republicans went into caucus at 2 o'clock the executive session having adjourned to permit it. The Democrats will not table the resolution to elect Senate officers unless the Republicans should call it up, which they will not do. It will go over to the next session. Don Camcron and David Davis seem to be the only Senators who knew of the coming resignations. It is said that Conkling and Platt will not only regard their re-election as an approval of their fight against Robertson, but also a rebuke to the administration.

Senators generally say that Robertson will be confirmed to-morrow, and the Senate will adjourn by Friday.

NEW YORK, May 16.-The Post's Washington special says the Senators are greatly excited over the resignation over the New York Senators. The question is what shall next be done. This sensational and violent move on the New York Senators' part seems to do away for the present with all hope of the election of Republican officers of the Senate, and to relegate Mahone, Gorham and Riddleberger to the background, as it leaves the Republicans in a minority for the time being.

It is said however that a programme has been arranged, and that the two Senators are to be immediately returncil. This action by the Senators therefore is regarded as a step whereby they con get a formal and emphatic justification by the present Legislature.

READING, PENN., May 16 .- A case of deathbed insurance has just occurred here which has scarcely, if ever, been equalled in this phase of crime. The party insured was Daniel Gehris, aged eighty-five years, a resident of this city for a number of years. One of the insurance speculators is a prominent citizen of the town and of the county, and one who was not supposed to figure in a case of this kind. The company in which Gehris was insured was one of a number of wild-cat concerns in this section, and the policy was for $5,000. The examining physician of this company is one Dr. Yorgey, of Pottstown, who has heretofare extensively figured in this speculative insurance. It is a well-known fact to all parties interested in this case that Gehris had been suffering for a number of years of consumption, and also gangrene, some of his toes being ready to drop off, and that his death was momentarily expected. Notwithstanding these facts Dr. Yorgery and other parties came and asked to be allowed to insure Gehris' tife. This was at first refused, the old man saying, "I hope you are not going giving the wife $5 down, and promising o make it $100 on the death of Gehris. Tue last remnant of the $4,000 wreck on the Illinois Midland railway near Waynesville Saturday evening has been cleared away and trains are making regular trips. It appears that a heavily laden freight train got stuck on a long grade, and was backing up in order to get a good start when another train following ran into it, breaking up four cars, scattering one or two cars of corn over the ground, and injuring the front of the engine.

The landable enterprise of improving the condition of the old square and Merchant street is now in progress under the direction of the council committee and Superintendent Shorb. A large quantity of superfluous earth is being taken out of Merchant street and deposited on low places on the old square. The street will he nicely graded, and the old square will be graded in good shape as a preliminary move. Let the good work go on.

R. transfer yard, is in than the tariff rate. The limitation of the ticket expired at midnight of the day on which it was purchased. Evans got on board a train on the Iron Mountain road at 9 o'clock in the evening The conduc tor told him the ticket would expire at midnight. When the hour arrived the conductor applied to Evans for his fare He offered $1.75, all the money he had, to be allowed to ride till morning, but the money was refused. Evans was put of the train in the woods. The night was rainy and very dark, and in groping along the track the negro fell into a cattle guard and sustained severe injurias. The other day he sued the company, laying his damages at $1,000. The court held that the ticket was good for a passage to Little Rock if presented on the train before the limitation had expired. The jury gave the negro a verdict for $350.

DRY GOODS,

OIL CLOTHS, WINDOWICURTAINS, MATTINGS WALL-PAPER, CARPETS, &C.

A better or larger assortment of DRY GOODS and CARPLES adapted to the wants of this community cannot be found anywhere else, and as we Buy in Large Quantities, and chiefly of the Importers and Manufacturers, and as our Sales exceed that of any other House in the United States according to population, which requires a very small per cent. on the amount of our sales to pay our expenses, it will not be taxing the credulity of the people too much when we claim that no House in Chicago or St. Louis, much less in Decatur, can compete with us in LOW PRICES, because the expenses of the former, according to sales, double that of ours; while the pretentions of the latter-at least those who pretend to be "Leaders" and "Importers" and buyers for cash-presume greatly on the ignorance of the public, when they try to set themselves up as competitors. We know how to buy goods, where to buy them, and that will sell
